Welcome!

The Campus Area Housing (CAH) office, a service of Campus and Visitor Relations, has been UW–Madison’s official source for available privately-owned housing and consumer rental information for over 40 years. Whether you are an undergraduate student moving off-campus for the first time, a transfer student, an international student, a graduate student, a faculty/staff member new to Madison, or any other member of our community, the Campus Area Housing Rental Resource Guide was created with your needs in mind.

What Is Campus Area Housing?

Campus Area Housing maintains an informative website (campusareahousing.wisc.edu) that aids all campus community members in navigating off-campus living. Our mobile-friendly site provides an easily searchable database of campus area rental vacancies, roommate openings and sublets in apartment buildings, houses, co-operatives, and rooming houses. Users may select their criteria to generate a list of available rentals, complete with rental details and contact information. Criteria may include:

- type of housing
- date needed/rental season
- number of bedrooms
- price range
- location
- pet policy
- and more!

CAH also offers rental information and resources on our website, by phone, and in person.

Finally, students can post to the CAH sublet and roommate boards for free when logging in with their NetID. For more information about advertising with CAH, visit campusareahousing.wisc.edu.

Factors to Consider Before Searching for Housing

Madison Rental Market

Madison consistently ranks as a top city to live in. The UW–Madison campus is located on an isthmus, between lakes Mendota and Monona, and is surrounded by numerous eclectic neighborhoods. Many rentals are within walking distance to campus and most are on city bus lines.

There is no specific leasing date in Madison. Units are advertised at various times during the year depending on the property owner or management company. Many near-campus leases start on or around August 15 and continue for one year.

Newer properties and those closest to campus tend to have the highest rental rates, however rental rates vary significantly. Please see page 7 for a list of average rental rates taken from a sample of rentals recently listed on the Campus Area Housing website.

Lease Term

Determine your ideal dates for the start and end of the lease. Will you be in Madison the entire year, or will you participate in a study abroad program or internship? Will you be here over the summer?

Important note: Many campus rentals have a 24-hour lease gap—leases end at noon on August 14 and the new leases start at noon on August 15. Most students stay with friends, family, or at a hotel during that time.

Personal Finances

Develop your monthly budget for rent, utilities, food, household expenses, laundry, parking, and transportation costs. Be prepared to pay an application fee, first month's rent, and security deposit.

Roommates

Finding compatible roommates is just as important as choosing where to live. Roommate disagreements are common and can be avoided by having honest discussions and drafting a roommate agreement. For more information and a sample roommate agreement, visit the Tenant Resource Center’s website at www.tenantresourcecenter.org.

Discuss living habits: single- or shared-room preferences; how you will divide and pay for rent, utilities, and other charges; guest rules (overnight and social); and how household duties will be shared.

Learn everyone’s plans for the year, including study abroad, internships, and summer plans. Discuss how you will handle the sublet process if one or more roommates will be moving out before the end of the lease.

Meal Plans

Most campus area housing rentals do not include a meal plan. However, all UW–Madison students may dine in the University Housing dining facilities using credit/debit cards, or their Wiscard. Also, all UW–Madison students can eat at any Wisconsin Union food venue, including satellite union delis and coffee shops in academic buildings, using credit/debit cards or their Wiscard.

For more information about the Wiscard, visit wiscard.wisc.edu.

Pets

No matter the type or size of your pet, ask if pets are allowed and whether extra fees or a deposit are required. Asking for all terms and permission in writing is recommended. If a pet is allowed, be a good pet owner by minimizing noise disturbances and damages, and by cleaning up after your pet.

When to Search

Most leases run August to August, but rentals are available throughout the year. The table below provides information on when to search for housing based on the lease start-date.

TRC'S TOP 3 RENTAL TIPS

READ YOUR LEASE

There is often a lot of paperwork to fill out when signing a lease, but make sure to read all of it.

RECORD EVERYTHING IN WRITING

Did your property owner promise something?
Did you make an agreement with a roommate?
It doesn't mean much if you don't have proof, so put everything you can in writing and save a copy for yourself.

GET RENTERS INSURANCE

Protect your property with very affordable insurance that may end up saving you a lot.

When to Search for Fall Housing

Early in the fall semester, students may feel rushed into signing a lease that starts next fall or there will be “nothing left”. The time-frame with the most housing options listed on campusareahousing.wisc.edu available for the next fall is from October to January. CAH recommends that students, especially first-year students, wait until they have their plans set for the next academic year before making a housing decision. There are many reasons to wait a little further into the current fall semester before signing a lease:

- Next year’s plans are not yet set.

Students need adequate time to meet with advisors and determine future academic plans. Study abroad and internship options may affect their housing needs. If you sign a lease too early and your plans change, you are still responsible for that lease.

- All options are not yet advertised.

The greatest selection of units available for the following fall will be advertised October through January, with some additional vacancies announced in the early spring. If you sign a lease too early in the fall semester, you may not be able to consider other housing options that become available.

- Roommate conflicts.

For first-year students in particular, students are meeting new people and friendships are evolving during their first semester on campus. Signing a lease too early with people you don’t know very well could lead to roommate conflicts in the future.

Factors to Consider During Your Search

Utilities

The cost of utilities can significantly impact your monthly budget if that cost is not included in your rent. These costs vary greatly and depend on the services you require, the age of the building, and the type and size of the rental unit. We recommend that you check the average utility costs for a specific address with Madison Gas & Electric at www.mge.com.

Each utility and entity responsible for paying should be listed on the lease agreement. Standard utilities include heat, electricity, water, and sewer. Additional utilities may include phone, cable, and internet service.

Furnishings and Amenities

Do you need a furnished or unfurnished rental? What appliances are provided? What amenities do you require or prefer: air conditioning, a balcony or patio, fitness room, etc.?

Renters Insurance

Does the property owner/management company require renters insurance? Do you need to show proof? Renters insurance is highly recommended for all renters even if it is not required. Many students do not realize that renters insurance can cover your possessions outside of your house or apartment as well - such as your laptop, smartphone, or bike. In addition, renters insurance includes possible property damages and can even cover living expenses if you're displaced due to a fire or other mishap. Campus Area Housing encourages students to thoroughly read and understand what liabilities would be covered in your individual renters insurance policy.

Parking and Transportation

Do you need parking for your car? Do you need a place to secure your moped or bicycle? Do additional parking charges, special terms/policies, and agreements apply?

If you need parking and it is not available with your rental, there are other options to consider:

- Some rental property owners with units in the downtown/campus area offer parking spaces for rent. The CAH website maintains a list of these options: campusareahousing.wisc.edu/parking.
- The City of Madison offers a Residential Parking Permit (on-street parking) for a small fee. The permit is only valid in specific areas, and allows residents to park for up to 48 hours in the same space. For more information, visit www.cityofmadison.com/parking-utility/permits/residential-parking-permits.

Please note that all UW–Madison students who pay segregated fees are eligible to receive a Madison Metro bus pass, which offers convenient travel on campus and throughout Madison.

LEASE TERMS TO KNOW

Cosigner

A cosigner is a person who signs a lease agreement with the tenant and agrees to fulfill the terms of the lease if the tenant does not. Many property owners and managers require a cosigner for college students. We encourage students to discuss this requirement with parents/guardians and roommates as early as possible in the search process to avoid issues later.

Leases are legally binding agreements

Once a lease is signed, it is legally binding. In the event that plans change, a court will uphold a properly executed lease agreement. A tenant may be able to negotiate breaking a lease or subletting their unit. These options may be expensive and are not guaranteed. Before signing a lease, ask how status as a UW–Madison student may factor into the agreement.

Joint and several liability

A “joint and several liability” clause makes every signer of the rental agreement individually responsible for all of the rent and all damages that may occur. Property owners see everyone on the lease as one entity, which is why choosing your roommate(s) wisely is crucial.

Rental Touring Checklist

- ☐ Take a friend—never tour a rental unit alone.
- ☐ Make sure you see the actual unit you will be renting, not a model.
- ☐ Are there safety features such as smoke detectors and carbon monoxide detectors? Do they work?
- ☐ Do all of the door locks and dead-bolts work, and do the bolts stick out at least one inch?
- ☐ Do windows open and close properly? Do they lock? Are window coverings provided?
- ☐ Check out the area at night with friends to see if it's well lit and to get a feel for the neighborhood.
- ☐ Check your cell phone reception in the unit—can you send and receive texts and calls? (Test it out!)
- ☐ Does the plumbing work? Check all faucets and showers, and flush all toilets. How is the water temperature and pressure? Is there any sign of water leaks?
- ☐ Do the fans in the bathrooms work? Do you see signs of mold?
- ☐ Do the appliances work? Turn them on to make sure.
- ☐ Check for damages from current tenants, pets, rodents, insects, water, and fire throughout the unit, especially on the floors, walls, and ceilings, and inside cabinets, drawers, and closets.
- ☐ Are there enough electrical outlets throughout the unit? Do they work? (Hint: Bring your phone charger and plug it in to check).
- ☐ Do the lights work in all of the rooms?
- ☐ Does the unit have enough storage space? If you need parking for a bike, moped, or car, is it available?
- ☐ If there are any items that need to be repaired or replaced, discuss what repairs or improvements will be made with your prospective landlord, and write them into the lease.
- ☐ If you are seriously considering a rental property:
  - Ask for a copy of the lease and addendums. This will give you a chance to review the documents.
  - Read the lease carefully. Pay special attention to “Non-standard Lease Terms.”
  - Consider asking the current tenants about their experiences with the owner or management. Are they pleasant and professional? Do they respond quickly to maintenance and repair requests?
  - Contact the City of Madison Building Inspection Unit to ask about building-code violations.
  - Contact utility companies to inquire about average costs for heat, electricity, cable, and internet service.

A NOTE ABOUT SAFETY

It's important to ask yourself...

Will you feel safe in the rental?

Will you feel safe while walking to and from classes during the day and at night?

Personally check out every rental. Trust your instincts.

Subletting Information

Subletting is an arrangement between a current tenant (sublessor), a “substitute” tenant (sublessee), and the property owner or management company. A sublessee takes the sublessor’s place and resides in the unit, paying either part of or all of the rent. Below are some things to keep in mind when subletting:

- Not all property owners and management companies permit subletting. Be sure to ask! For those who do allow subletting, ask about and follow their subletting process.
- If you have roommates, be sure you have their support. Your roommates should feel comfortable with the new sublessee and may have to sign the sublet agreement showing their approval.

ADVERTISING A SUBLET

- Members of the UW Community may log-in with their NetID and advertise their sublet for free under the Campus Area Housing website “Subleases” tab.
- Share information with friends, classmates, co-workers, acquaintances, and your roommates’ network.
- Spread the word via social media, other advertising websites, and campus newspapers.
- Post flyers on or near campus (be sure to ask for approval when using bulletin boards in campus buildings).

- Advertise your rental early and often, making sure it is competitively priced. Remember that taking a small “loss” each month may be better than paying 100% of your rent when you’re gone.
- If you find a sublessee, you and any cosigners on the original lease may still be responsible for timely rent payments and damages until the end of the lease term. Damages incurred by a sublessee can be taken from your original security deposit.
- Complete a written sublet agreement with your sublessee and consider asking for a deposit. If your property owner does not provide a form, an example can be found on the Tenant Resource Center’s website at www.tenantresourcecenter.org.

Be Alert for Sublet Scams

- The City of Madison and the campus area continue to be targets for rental scams, with college students who advertise sublets frequently being targeted. Often these inquiries will make vague references to your rental, the grammar and spelling will be poor, and your email address will not appear in the “To:” address line. The emails typically originate outside of the United States and are sent to many addresses at one time.
- It’s best to refrain from replying. If you are uncertain about a request that you receive, you can forward it to our office at campusareahousing@uwmad.wisc.edu and we will give you our feedback.
